From the Weſtminſter Journal of July 21.

PUBLIC AFFAIRS.

WE are told from Stockholm, by a letter dated July 14, N. S. that a few days before a courier arriv'd there from the Baron de Greiffenheim, the Swediſh envoy extraordinary to the empreſs of Ruſſia, who brought advice, that affairs between the two courts are upon ſo favourable a footing, as gives the utmoſt reaſon to hope, that before the departure of his Britannic majeſty to Great-Britain, every thing will be regulated to the reciprocal ſatisfaction of the intereſted parties.

All the letters which have been lately received at Hamburgh, as well from Ruſſia as Poland, ſeem to foretel the ſpeedy reeſtabliſhment of the duke de Biron in the throne of Courland; and there is the leſs room, they add, to doubt of the ſucceſs of this affair, as the courts of Peterſburg and Warſaw ſeem equally to have it at heart.

There is advice by the way of Frankfort, that the ſubdelegated commiſſion of the Margrave of Brandenburgh Anſpach was withdrawn the 10th inſtant, N. S. after having made the ſuitable regulation for maintaining the eccleſiaſtical lutherans, who were eſtabliſhed there, in their rights.

By the ſame channel we are informed, that the duke of Saxe Gotha, on account of his pretenſions to Saxe-Lawenburgh has proteſted, as ſeveral other princes of the empire have done, againſt the 20th article of the treaty of Aix la-Chapelle, where it is ſaid, 'That his Britannic majeſty, as elector of Brunſwick 'Lunenburgh, as well for himſelf, as his heirs and ſucceſſors, 'and all the poſſeſſions of his majeſty in Germany, are com'prehended in and guarantied by the ſaid treaty.'

They write from Manheim, that the Elector Palatine has been extreamly ill there, but that he was much better, and thought to be out of danger when the laſt advices came away.

They write from Naples that the Banditti, which for ſome time paſt have committed great diſorders in ſeveral parts of that kingdom, being informed that the court was taking meaſures to extirpate them, thought proper to retire upon the approach of the troops that were ſent againſt them; that part of theſe vagabonds endeavouring to eſcape among the mountains, had been ſurrounded there, in ſuch a manner, that they muſt be obliged to ſurrender themſelves, or be ſtarved; and that the reſt making towards the ſea, orders had been ſent to the ports to prohibit all maſters of ſhips from taking any perſons on board to carry out of the kingdom, without an expreſs permiſſion.

We are aſſured from Rome, that a congregation has been lately held in the preſence of the Pope upon the affair of Hohenloe. His holineſs's nuncios in the courts of Germany have repreſented the thing as of very great conſequence to the Roman Catholic party, becauſe of the ſuperiority which the evangelical party has had therein. The Pope therefore, who aſſumes to be chief of the viſible church, has reſolved to ſend briefs to the catholic princes of the empire, to exhort them to ſupport with vigour the rights of their communion, and to prevent that any wound be given to them by the affair in queſtion.

But the following piece of news, which comes alſo from the ſame place, is of much greater importance to the prieſtly monarch, and ſeems to indicate a new exciſion of a conſiderable part of its revenue and intereſt. It is ſaid his Catholic majeſty has reſolved to eſtabliſh courts in Spain to decide all eccleſiaſtical affairs, without appeal to the holy ſee; and that he has alſo forbid all ſollicitations to the Roman court, for obtaining benefices that become vacant in Spain, and has order'd them to apply only to his council. This news very much embarraſſes the miniſters of the holy ſee, who are determined to make repreſentations to the court of Spain upon the ſubject.

They write from Leghorn, that the three men of war which have been fitted out at that port, and ſeem intended for trade as well as fighting, were to ſail along the coaſt of Barbary to the Levant and Conſtantinople. As ſeveral knights of the order of St. Stephen are on board theſe ſhips, the count de Richecourt deſired the grand prior of that order to ſing maſs on board one of them; but the grand prior excuſed himſelf, alleging, that that could not be allowed of without the Pope's expreſs permiſſion. It is ſince ſaid that the court of Rome has acquainted the Tuſcan regency, that no ſuch permiſſion could be granted, without knowing what expedition theſe men of war were deſtined for, and againſt whom the knights were to act. This affair will probably retard the departure of this ſquadron.

The French court is taking the moſt proper meaſures to increaſe their marine, and put it out of danger of receiving ſuch checks as it felt in the laſt war. Theſe meaſures intimate a continuation of the extraordinary impoſts. Accordingly, the remonſtrances made by the parliament to the king, in relation to the continuance of the hundredth penny, and the four ſols in the livre (which equals 4 ſhillings in the pound in England) have not had the leaſt ſucceſs.

They write from Breſt in particular, that Mr. Rouille, miniſter of the marine, ſeemed perfectly ſatisfied with the good condition in which he found the navy there, and in other parts of Britany. The magazine and arſenals are all well provided, ſeveral men of war almoſt ready to launch, and ſeveral others upon the ſtocks.

From the LONDON GAZETTE.

Warſaw, July 4. Although ſeveral of the dietines are broke up unſucceſsful, as well in this kingdom as in Lithuania, yet the greateſt part of them have elected deputies for the extraordinary diet, which will be held here the 4th of next month; and we hear that ſeveral of thoſe deputies are already preparing to come hither accordingly. The deputies from the magiſtrates and citizens, of Dantzick are ſet out on their return home. We have received a confirmation of the total defeat of a conſiderable body of Hyducks, who were returning home with their ſpoils after they had committed the greateſt outrages imaginable in the Ukraine; but we learn at the ſame time, that M. Labiſzewſky, who commanded the Poliſh troops that were brought in queſt of them, had the misfortune to be killed in that rencounter, together with ſeveral ſuperior officers, and a great number of ſoldiers.

Dantzick, July 8. Preparations are already making here for the reception of the king and queen of Poland, who are expected ſoon after the holding of the extraordinary diet. Their majeſties propoſe ſtopping four or five days in this city, before they proceed to Dreſden. Some days ago the magiſtrates of this city received an expreſs from Warſaw, by which they were ordered immediately to re-eſtabliſh the citizens in their prerogatives, conformable to what has been regulated by the king on that ſubject, and to depoſe the two counſellors, who had been elected by them ſome time ſince; which has been done accordingly. What other differences may ſtill ſubſiſt between the magiſtrates and citizens of this city, will be adjuſted by his majeſty during his ſtay here.

Hamburg, July 17. Letters from Copenhagen adviſe that a ſhip is failed from thence for Algiers, with preſents for the Dey of that ſtate, which will be doubly acceptable at this juncture, as they conſiſt of 8000 cannon balls, 50,000 lb. of powder, and ſome naval ſtores.

LONDON.

LONDON, July 14.

The ſtorms of hail which fell on Wedneſday laſt, in and about London, hath occaſioned prodigious damage, eſpecially on the Surrey ſide. It is impoſſible, without a view, to conceive the loſs which the gardeners have ſuſtained, and the great miſery to which many induſtrious perſons are reduced. In the pariſh of St. Mary Magdalen Bermondſey alone, the damages are computed, at a moderate calculation, to amount to above 4000 l. The miſfortune of the unhappy ſufferers is ſo great, that, without the charitable aid of the humane and generous, they muſt be intirely undone.

On Tueſday morning a large quantity of fiſh of all kinds, was ſeen floating, and taken out of the river dead, ſuppoſed to be killed by the waters being diſturbed by the ſaid tempeſt.

July 17. Letters from Madrid ſay, that the miniſtry having inſiſted, that the Engliſh South Sea Company ſhould give up its claim of 470,000 l. on the Spaniſh court, which, in that caſe, will grant them very conſiderable advantages in trade; the company, on condition of obtaining theſe advantages, have reduced their claim to 200,000 l. and the affair is now adjuſting.

On Friday laſt, between 2 and 3 in the morning, the noted Moll Wilks the younger, exerciſing her old trade, was taken up by the watch, and carried to the compter, and the next day before the ſitting alderman; who, after examination, committed her to her former lodgings in Bridewell: Which ſo enraged the young lady, that ſhe immediately laid violent hands on the conſtable and watchmen, but being overpowered by them, ſhe cried out murder, which was heard by the alderman, who ordered her to be brought before him again: As ſoon as ſhe entered the room, ſhe curſed the alderman and all the company preſent, and afterwards d—d her heart and eyes, if ſhe would go to goal without a coach; that being refuſed, the poor creature condeſcended to go in a cart, and, with many impreca ions, told the magiſtrate he might ſend her to Newgate, Bridewell, or H—, but a coach or a cart ſhe would have: But, contrary to her inclination, madam was immediately obliged to walk to her lodging, guarded by a conſtable and a watchman, whom ſhe threatens to butcher as ſoon as ſhe gets her liberty.

We hear from Stockport, in Cheſhire, that on Tueſday the 26th of June, Mr. Joſeph Watſon, aged about 100 years, was at the hunting of a buck with Mr. Warren of Stockport, in his park at Poynton; when it was over, he ſaid he had hunted in that park with five generations of the Warrens lineally deſcended.

July 21. Our correſpondent at Paris writes, that notwithſtanding the vigilance uſed in detecting, and the ſeverity employed in puniſhing libels, thoſe againſt the clergy grow every day more frequent, and more tart, interſperſed however with ſo many notorious truths, that they are greedily bought up, and greatly admired.

They write from Berlin that gold and ſilver never was ſo plentiful as at preſent in the Pruſſian dominions, and that they coin every day at the mint to the value of about 50,000 crowns.

BOSTON.

October 1. Saturday laſt came in here in diſtreſs, the ſhip Tartar Galley, James Goelet maſter, from New-York, bound for London, which on the 9th of September laſt, in lat. 39. d. 35 m. North, long. 53 d. Weſt from London, met with a violent gale of wind at N. E. which continued 48 hours, in which ſhe loſt one of her maſts, and top-maſt, and had all her ſails but one blown from her yards, and ſuffered conſiderable damage in her rigging and upper works of her hull; and ſprung a leak. She had every thing waſh'd off her decks, except her boats, and having been at ſea 42 days from Sandy Hook, put in here to refit.

October 18. On Thurſday laſt, towards evening a boat belonging to the Succeſs man of war, with nine men in her, going from the town to the ſhip below the caſtle, was overſet by a flaw of wind, and the Coxwain and five others of the men were drowned.

We have advice by a veſſel that arrived laſt Tueſday from Hallifax, that on Friday or Saturday was ſe'nnight Capt. Rouſe, in his majeſty's ſloop Albany, fell in with two veſſels in the mouth of the bay of Fundy, one a brig, the other a ſchooner, they ſtanding up the bay, and he bound to Hallifax: He haled the brig to know who they were, and whither bound, but having no ſatisfactory anſwer, he fir'd a gun:——The brig yet giving no anſwer, but hoiſting French colours, Capt. Rouſe fir'd a ſhot acroſs her fore foot, which the brig return'd with a broadſide, by which a midſhipman of Capt. Rouſe's was ſhot dead upon the ſpot, and another of his men wounded. Upon which a warm engagement enſued, which continued 3 hours; 'til at laſt the Frenchman, being ſick of the affair, ſurrender'd. Capt. Rouſe had two men killed, and the French ſix; and ſeveral were wounded on both ſides. During the engagement, the French ſchooner ſtood off to ſea——They both came from Canada, and were bound to St. John's with proviſions, ammunition, and warlike ſtores, for a new French ſettlement there.——The brig was a veſſel of war, and, beſides the ſtores ſhe had on board, ſerv'd as a convoy to the ſchooner.

Capt. Rouſe arrived with the brig at Hallifax, the Monday after the engagement.

Extract of a Letter from Chineſſo, October 4.

"We have the moſt treacherous enemy in the world to deal with:——Since our being here we have had a great many conferences by flags of truce, with both the French and Indians: Capt. How was the perſon who always went, as he underſtood their language beſt, and ſometimes he convers'd with them above an hour; and there generally went with him ten or twenty officers near the place where they held their conferences:——But this day, even within this fatal hour, he went to anſwer their flag with only the drum who carries our flag, and had half an hour's converſation with a French officer; during which time their dykes were full of either French or Indians, under cover; and as ſoon as Capt. How had finiſh'd his converſation with the raſcally Frenchman, and turn'd his back to go to the fort, the villains from behind the dykes roſe up, and fired a whole volley at him and the drum; one ball prov'd fatal to him, which I believe went through his heart——As ſoon as we ſaw the fire of the enemy, we ſent a party down to the marſh to bring him off; but tho' they effected that, it was too late to bring him alive: The drum was not hurt.——The villains, as ſoon as they ſaw our men approach, altho' they were on the other ſide a river which we could not get over, and were intrench'd up to the chin; yet they run like ſo many dogs, and now and then fir'd a piece.——What Behaviour is this! That even flags of truce (which have ever been ſacred) ſhould be cut off in the midſt of a parly, but the baſe treachery of worſe than ſavage brutes!——But poor Capt. How was a perſon they have always been afraid of, and one whom they all knew very well; and that he was a moſt ſerviceable perſon among us, and had almoſt the chief management of things in his own hands; and his death they have been trying to accompliſh theſe ſeveral days, which he has had information of, but was too confident of the honour of monſieur Le Corne; by which, poor man, he loſt his life.——"

NEW-YORK.

October 8. Yeſterday came in here in diſtreſs the ſnow Mary, Capt. Badger of this place, bound for London, who ſail'd from Sandy Hook the 23d of Auguſt laſt, in company with the Captains, Garriſon, Gorlet, and Todd: On the 9th of September, in lat. 39, 55. long. 52, 45. they met with a violent ſtorm at Eaſt, which laſted 56 hours, in which time ſhe broacht too thrice, and had her cabouſe and binnacle waſh'd away; ſhe lay on her beam ends, and had four feet water in the hold, when they were oblig'd to cut away her main maſt the foremaſt ſprung, and threw ſome of the cargo overboard, before ſhe righted; ſhe had two of her people waſh'd overboard, but the next ſea happily threw them in again. Two days before the ſtorm, they ſpoke with Capt. Garriſon, and with Capt. Todd (bound for Cadiz, whole veſſel was very leaky), as alſo with a ſhip from Jamaica for Briſtol, Capt. Salmon, and a large French ſhip from the Cape for Nantz; and two days after the ſtorm they again ſpoke with the French ſhip who had loſt all her maſts, and was endeavouring to make for Cape-Breton, to refit.

USeful Knowledge has been often communicated to the World by the Simple and Ignorant, from whence great Advantages have accrued. The following Letter comes to me (well recommended) from a Gentleman in Somerset County, the Subject of which is a Negro Man, who has been a Slave, but is now free: It seems he was born in the Country, and by some Means obtained so good an Education, as to learn Reading and Writing, which he improv'd at all Opportunities, and of which he has made a good Use; for he was and is remarkable for his Fidelity, Sobriety, and Honesty, and has been for many Years a Communicant in the Parish where he lives; and has liv'd a regular Christian, blameless Life.

Mr. GREEN,

'THE principal Motive which induces me to write to you, results from a Desire of doing Good to Mankind. There are many Disorders which are incident to the Inhabitants of this Clime, which yearly carry off great Numbers of People: Now this is to inform you, and by your very useful Vehicle the Press, the Public, that there is in this County a Negro Man, who has had Physical Secrets communicated to him by an old, skilful, experienced Guinea Doctor, his Predecessor; in particular, a Cure for the Stone and Gravel, the Bite of a Snake, Dry Gripes, and Fluxes of both Kinds, more especially the Bloody Flux; as many People here can testify, who have been cured by his Medicines, when others, seemingly not so bad as they, who have been attended by Gentlemen of the Faculty, have died: He has had so remarkable Success, that none have died of the Distemper under his Care, and he has attended Numbers for near thirty Years past. His Medicine is not only safe and good, but pleasant and palatable. The Man is now grown old, and must of Course die in a few Years, and I make no Doubt but he will impart the Secret to some favourite Friend, who will perhaps keep it from others, for his own private Advantages and so on. Now, if such a Thing could be done as to raise by the Public, or any other Means for the Use of the Public, the Sum of Fifty Pounds Currency for his Support, he is willing to communicate the whole Secret, and have it publish'd in your Gazette, for the Use and Service of all who should have Occasion for it; whereby the Lives of many, who upon reading this, may perhaps ridicule and despise it, might probably be preserv'd. But I submit it to the Censure or Approbation of the Reader; and am,

Oct. 29, 1750. Your humble Servant,
